

Checklist

Signs You've Outgrown In-House Management

Use this checklist to evaluate whether your current property management structure is still supporting your long-term goals, or holding them back.

- You've struggled to hire or retain experienced property management staff
- Your reporting is delayed, incomplete, or lacks real-time visibility
- Leadership is frequently pulled into daily operational issues
- Tenant complaints or turnover have increased
- Maintenance is reactive rather than preventative
- Onboarding new properties takes longer than expected
- You're missing performance benchmarks on expenses like energy, repairs, or admin
- Your team lacks specialized expertise in compliance, finance, or tech systems
- You're paying unexpected costs related to staff turnover or system upgrades
- Strategic planning often takes a back seat to daily operations

If you've checked more than a few of these boxes, it may be time to evaluate whether a professional property management partner could help you unlock performance, consistency, and scale.

Whether you're managing one asset or a multi-market portfolio, NAI Global Property Management is ready to help you assess your options and build a plan that protects your investment and advances your goals.
